In accordance with the 2007 Reassessment Memorandum of Agreement a number of enhancements are being made to primary care incentives and premiums effective October 1, 2007.

Increase to New Patient Fees (Q013A and Q033A)

The New Patient Fee (Q013A) and the New Graduate-New Patient Fee (Q033A) have been increased for physicians in eligible Patient Enrolment Models (PEMs) as follows:

- the premium for patients aged 65 to 74 is increasing from $110 to $120
- the premium for patients aged 75 and older is increasing from $120 to $180

These increases will be applied to claims submitted with services dates of October 1, 2007 or later.

New Patient Fee (Q013A) –Threshold Increase

Physicians in eligible PEMs are now eligible for a maximum of 55 New Patient Fees (Q013A) per fiscal year. The threshold has been increased from 50 to 55 beginning with the 2007/2008 fiscal year. All other criteria for this premium remain unchanged.

Previously submitted Q013A with service dates on or after April 1, 2007 that paid at zero with explanatory code 'M1' will automatically be adjusted up to the new maximum of 55 and paid on the November 2007 Remittance Advice (RA).

Effective April 1, 2008 the threshold will be further increased from 55 to 60 New Patient Fees per fiscal year.

New Graduate – New Patient Fee (Q033A) – Threshold Increase

As of October 1, 2007 any physician meeting the New Graduate criteria is eligible for a maximum of 300 New Graduate – New Patient fees (Q033A) in their first year of practice with a PEM. All other criteria for this premium remain unchanged.

New Graduate physicians who joined an eligible PEM on or after October 2, 2006 and are therefore within their first year of practice in a PEM (12 months from their effective date of joining a PEM) are also eligible for the increased threshold. Any previously submitted Q033A claims that were paid at zero dollars with explanatory code 'M1' will automatically be adjusted on the November 2007 RA up to the new maximum of 300.

New Graduate Physicians who have not reached the new threshold should continue to submit for the duration of their eligibility period. Any claims submitted over the new threshold will be paid at zero dollars with the explanatory code of 'M1'.

Increase to the Obstetrical Deliveries Special Premium

The Obstetrical Deliveries Special Premium for physicians in eligible PEMs has been increased from $3,200 to $5,000 for physicians providing a minimum of 5 deliveries per fiscal year.

As this change is effective retroactive to April 1, 2007, physicians who have already received their Obstetrical Deliveries Special Premium payment in this fiscal year will receive the difference of $1,800 on their November 2007 RA.
